MamaPan Bakery - a social economy project

The MamaPan Bakery is a bakery with a social mission, that creates jobs for women coming from vulnerable groups, more specifically - mothers who raise their children alone, mothers with more than 2 children and women that are in difficult life situations. We offer them trainings, decent wages and a friendly work environment.

The bakery uses only natural ingredients and natural sourdough instead of industrial yeast. Leavened bread is easily digested and nutrients are absorbed better. Natural sourdough bread has a low glycemic index and reduces intolerances or allergies compared with bread made with commercial yeast.

Our products are made according to traditional recipes without preservatives, enhancers, artificial flavors or other substances potentially harmful and they are shaped by hand. The production process involves a long time of preparation and natural leavening.
